Nipper - Kelpie X, 11yo

Arlo - Rhodesian Ridgeback X, 11yo

Nipper, Arlo & Bailey were all given a second chance at life by APS. All three are 'long-termers" who have been cared for by APS for years while they wait for the right home.

Just recently, Nipper finally found a permanent home. Arlo, Bailey and other "long-termers" are still waiting for someone to take them to their furever home. If you think this could be you, please contact APS.

Bailey - American Staffy, 7yo

The Animal Protection Society of WA

The Animal Protection Society of WA Inc. (APS) is a pro-life dog and cat refuge with an unwavering commitment to rescue and nurture abandoned, neglected and mistreated dogs and cats. The main goal of the APS is to care for abandoned animals whilst finding them a loving home with a responsible owner. We are proud of our strict policy that no animal in our care will be euthanized unless on the advice of a veterinarian.

The refuge caters for up to 24 dogs, 65 cats and 45 kittens at any one time and is run completely by volunteers. The refuge receives limited government funding, so relies on donations, fundraising and membership fees to meet the ongoing costs of maintaining the refuge. We always need volunteers, so if you are interested in helping out in please contact us.

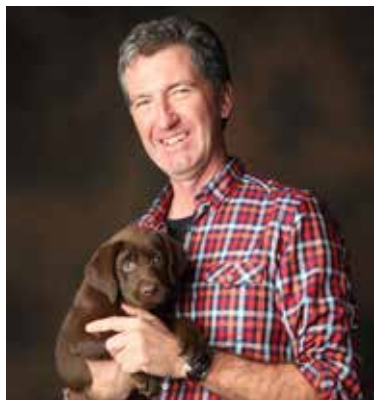
Paws of Love Pet Photography



Paws of Love Pet Photography was founded by Award Winning Photographer David Brittain. David has over 25 years of experience as a professional photographer, is a graduate of the prestigious New York Film Academy, has been awarded the title of Master Photographer 4 times by the AIPP and is the 2018 WA Pet Photographer of the Year.

"I have a great love for dogs and really enjoy capturing their unqiue personalities and making artistic photos of them. This project has allowed me to give something back to the community by helping raise money for this worthy charity."

At just 10 months old, Sienna was due to be euthanised at a regional pound. APS rescued Sienna where they discovered she was pregnant. APS cared for Sienna and her puppies until they were able to find all of them their furever homes. They are all now living their best lives!
